Martha Remains in Seclusion

Martha Mitchell, wife of former Attorney General John Mitchell, remained in seclusion yesterday in her private suite at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N.Y.

She was visited twice during the day by Dr. G. Freeman Brooks, a doctor of internal medicine, who the Dr. Brooks visited Mrs.

Mitchell alone in the morning, and again at the club in the afternoon with a police escort. He refused to talk to reporters gathered in the country club lobby.

Desk clerks at the club reported that Mrs. Mitchell was "not receiving any calls." They said they did not know whether her husband had left Rye or not.
